

IBM

<http://www.ibm.com>

---

POSITION TITLE: Shock/Vibration Engineer Intern

POSITION LOCATION: Poughkeepsie, NY

POSITION DESCRIPTION:

This intern position is for a PhD or Masters mechanical engineering candidate for 1Q 2016 in the Shock/Vibration Development Compliance Department in IBM, Poughkeepsie, NY.

The state of the art shock and vibration engineering laboratory in IBM Poughkeepsie supports the design, manufacture and failure analysis of computer hardware. The intern will have the opportunity to work on a range of mechanical analysis and tests. Currently the laboratory is active in the area of mainframe hardware development and testing, with focus on Modal analysis. 3 to 6 month term.

DESIRED MAJORS: Mechanical Engineer

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- At least 2 years' experience in statistics, dynamics, analytical techniques for structural analysis, strength of materials, design and/or analytics. Experience may be academic.

HOW TO APPLY:

Interested candidates should apply online at IBM.com.